Présentation

I am a teaching and research assistant at IGR-IAE, specializing in research on sustainability disclosure and sustainability assurance. With a keen interest in understanding the factors that affect the breadth of sustainability assurance statements/reports, my research explores the broader implications of this breadth on organizational practices and transparency. I have presented my research at several notable conferences, including the European Accounting Association (EAA) 2023 and 2024, Francophone Accounting Association (AFC) 2023 and 2024, and France Master (CCA) 2023. In addition to my research, I teach a range of accounting courses
